Our privacy promise

The Historical Association operates in accordance with EU General Data Protection Regulations (from 25 May 2018)/UK Data Protection Act 1998. We promise to use your data in a fair, transparent and ethical way. We collect your personal information in order to fulfil your branch membership of the HA and send you updates where you have requested them. You can opt out of these communications at any time. We have procedures and features in place to keep your data secure. We will never sell your personal information or pass it to third parties. You can ask to see what information we hold about you, request changes to the data, or instruct us to delete it, however this may mean we are no longer able to deliver the services you have requested. If your branch membership lapses we will retain your data to keep you updated on branch activities, or until you notify us that you no longer wish to receive this information. We are required under UK tax law to keep your basic personal data for six years after which time it will be destroyed. For further information please view our full privacy policy at www.history.org.uk/go/privacypolicy or speak to your branch representative.
